Three days were allowed to the judges and clerks of the recent election, both judiciary and primary by the special committee named by the chairman Richolson of the Board of Supervisors at Tuesday afternoon's session. These officials were allowed one day's pay for the judiciary election and two days for the primary. Supervisor Clayton questioned the authority of the special committee to bring in this resolution and Chairman Thomas P. Long, who headed the special committee replied that in many instances the officials left home at 5 o'clock in the morning and did not complete their duties until 2 o'clock or later of the following morning, and that one day's pay was not sufficient. The special committee to whom was referred the matter of providing an office in the court house for the county nurse brought in a resolution, which recommended that a suitable place be secured by the county for the holding of tuberculosis clinics and of election of judges and clerks. Joseph Bauer, chairman of the special committee stated that investigation had developed the fact that the grand jury rooms on the third floor of the court house were not the proper place for the conducting of clinics. Not Good Place. "People suffering with tuberculosis are sick people," he said in explaining the resolution. "First, they are required to climb a hill to reach the court house and then climb several flights of stairs to reach the grand jury room where the clinics have been held. The special committee has learned that in many instances, tubercular patients have been unable to be treated at the clinics because of exhaustion and we have been told that this is not the proper place, but that a ground floor location would be far more suitable. For this reason, the committee after making a thorough investigation has recommended that a ground floor location be secured for the holding of these clinics and that the county nurse be provided with suitable office room." The resolution was adopted unanimously. An application was read from Geo. S. Coakley of this city, who seeks to be named constable in Dixon township to fill the vacancy caused by Walter Fallstrom, constable-elect, failing to qualify. The matter was referred to the judiciary committee to report at this meeting.

LEE CO. FOLKS HELD BY ARIZ. QUARANTINE LAW

Ralph Long and Family of Sublette Victims of Action.

Ralph Long, son of Supervisor Leslie R. Long of Sublette township, who with his family have been touring the Pacific coast for several months, are among thousands of tourists who are being held in quarantine in Arizona to prevent the spread of the hoof and mouth disease in that state and lower California.

In a letter, received by the Sublette supervisor, Ralph states that many hundred automobile tourists are being held at Yuma City, Ariz., where he arrived a few days ago on his way back to Illinois. Hundreds of these, he says, have offered their automobiles for sale at almost any price in an effort to proceed on their journey by train. This plan has proved futile as all are being held pending the raising of the quarantine. Citizens of Yuma City, the letter states, will not purchase cars at the extremely low prices which have been offered by tourists, and all are awaiting anxiously the release of the quarantine restrictions.

Chauncey M. Depew, 90 Today, Too Busy to Start on Links

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW

By Associated Press Leased Wire New York, April 23.—Ten years from today Chauncey Depew may start playing golf, but just now, when he's only 90, he won't break the daily routine at his office, he said yesterday.

The veteran railroad man, after-dinner speaker and former U. S. senator celebrated his 90th birthday today, planning to spend it as any other day. He arrives in his office about 10 o'clock each morning and leaves between 4:30 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

"I ascribe my long life to my ability to 'switch'," he said. "I have been in the railroad business for 55 years and have been associated with the successful constructive men who built up the railroad systems of this country. Nearly all have died early or their health has been seriously impaired."

"A study of their lives has convinced me that it was their inability to get away from the problems that weighed upon them."

Mr. Depew hopes to speak again this year at the republican national convention. At the last one in Chicago, he spoke 45 minutes and he has been attending them regularly since 1864.

Mr. Depew approves of women in politics, but thinks they take it too seriously, especially their speeches, for they leave out the funny stories.

Others under consideration are said to include Secretary Hughes, Senator Willis of Ohio; C. G. Dawes, Representative Longworth of Ohio; Senator Borah of Idaho; former Senator Beveridge of Indiana; Governors Hyde of Missouri and Groesbeck of Michigan, and Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania.

"CITY BEAUTIFUL" PLAN ENDORSED BY KIWANIS CLUB

Will Co-operate in Making Dixon Cleaner and More Attractive.

The Dixon Kiwanis club sponsored a movement, at their regular weekly meeting Tuesday to get back of the city council and citizens of Dixon in fostering a City Beautiful plan in Dixon. The action was taken following a few remarks by Commissioner Joe E. Valle in which he suggested the plan as a very acceptable one in which to clean up the streets and alleys of the city and advocating the use of receptacles by business houses to receive rubbish which heretofore has been placed in open boxes or piled up behind stores. The matter was referred to the committee on public affairs, of which O. H. Martin is chairman.

Chairman Martin offered a resolution in which he asked that the club as a body get behind the city council and citizens of Dixon in a City Beautiful movement, which was unanimously adopted by the club.

To Visit Wire Screen. An invitation was read from the Reynolds Wire Company in which the club as a body was invited to go through the plants at any time designated by the club. James Corcoran of Rockford, director of the Illinois Bell Telephone company's interests gave a very interesting talk upon the subject of Public Utilities. "Utilities Democratic. A community is best known by its utilities," he said in opening. "The public utilities of today are the cheapest thing that money can buy. They are the silent partners to the business and are the most democratic of all institutions. In less than a half century the United States leads all other countries of the world in the telephone utility. Today in Illinois there are over a million and a half of telephones in use. This is the outgrowth started about 40 years ago in a central station on LaSalle street in Chicago with between 60 and 70 phones in operation."

THAW, HELD SANE BY JURY, NOT YET SURE OF FREEDOM

Former Wife Has Asked for New Trial of Sanity Hearing.

By Associated Press Leased Wire Philadelphia, April 23.—Although he was declared sane by a jury last night, Harry K. Thaw today still is in the Pennsylvania Hospital for Mental and Nervous Diseases.

After the verdict William A. Gray, counsel for Evelyn Nesbit, Thaw's divorced wife, whose 13-year-old son was permitted to intervene in the trial, requested the usual four days in which to file a motion for a new trial. Judge Monahan held Thaw in the custody of the court pending disposition of the motion.

In announcing that he would ask for another trial, Mr. Gray said he also spoke for A. G. Dickson, counsel for the trustees of Thaw's estate, who opposed his release.

Thaw and his aged mother received news of the verdict in Mrs. Thaw's suite at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. Thaw said he would not make any definite plans for the future.

Thaw did not say whether he would voluntarily go to New York to answer the indictment charging him with an attack on Frederick Gump, Jr., a Kinross City high school boy, should he eventually gain his freedom. Three-Year-Old Son of Lee Fiscel Victim of Tragic Death

Wilmer Warden Fiscel, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fiscel, residing about two miles northeast of Nachusa, was terribly burned about noon Tuesday at the home and died last night at 11:45. The body of the little one was practically baked, except for the back which did not come in contact with the flames. Coroner S. J. Whetston of Steward conducted an inquest at the home today.

The child was playing about the yard and Mr. Fiscel was engaged in raking and burning rubbish. The little one found its way to a gasoline tank in the yard and is said to have turned on the faucet, the oil saturating his clothing. He then wandered back to where the bonfire was burning and almost immediately was enveloped in flames.

Members of the family in the house discovered the child's condition and the father was the first to reach the side and succeeded in smothering the flames with a rug. The clothing was burned away from the body and the flesh terribly burned. The child lived until a short time before midnight last night, remaining conscious to the end. The boy was born in Nachusa township and is survived by the parents and one sister and a brother.

The funeral will be held at the parents' home at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, with burial in the Emmert cemetery.

Was Stirring Fire

Evidence given by the father before the coroner's jury, composed of I. L. Trostle, O. D. Buck, John F. Spangler, L. E. Strube, Hazel Hammerston and Mary Lehman, this morning, was to the effect that a few minutes before the fatal blaze, the little fellow's mother had taken him out doors, called his father who was sowing seed nearby, and told him the child had let some gasoline run onto his clothing.

Mr. Fiscel said he started for the barn to put his team away, and as he did so his wife went into the house. A few minutes later he heard the loud scream, and rushing to the door saw him in flames. The boy had picked up a stick and stirred the embers of a bonfire, he said.

Springfield, Ill., April 23.—Corn and cotton planting started in southern Illinois in the week ending Tuesday, April 22, according to the weekly crop report issued here today by Clarence J. Root, meteorologist at the Springfield Weather Bureau.

In some sections oats are up. Plowing made good progress. Fruit trees are blossoming in the central counties, but the peach bloom is limited, there being none in some areas. Winter wheat is best in the north where the acreage is smallest. Experts say that the winter damage over much of the central division will average 50 per cent, ranging from good fields to failures. The spring wheat acreage is small and as usual is confined to the northern part of the state.

"Now if Henry Ford will enter into a contract with the government, which will insure compliance with these conditions, we will be glad to see him operate Muscle Shoals," Wilkins said.

Judge Lindley scored the man for his failure to respect the laws, declaring that because of his education, high class parents and wife, Massey deserved more punishment than some ignorant alien who didn't know what the laws were.

PINCHOT IS BEATEN FOR DELEGATE TO NATIONAL MEETING

Running Far Behind in Contest for Delegate-at-Large from Pa.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Philadelphia, April 23.—Ralph Beaver Strassburger, wealthy Norristown publisher, running against Governor Pinchot in yesterday's primary for delegate-at-large to the republican national convention, had a lead of nearly 200,000 votes in less than half the election districts of the state.

Returns from 3427 districts of the 119 in the state gave Strassburger 329,537 and Pinchot 122,470.

The city of Philadelphia alone turned a majority for Strassburger of 190,167.

The other six candidates for republican delegates-at-large, who were endorsed by the state organization; Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, U. S. Senators Pepper and Reed, W. S. Vare, representative in congress, W. H. Baker, chairman of the state republican committee and Mrs. Elizabeth P. Martin, appeared to have run strong. Although none of the republican delegates at large are pledged to any candidate, all are believed to favor President Coolidge.

"Loyalty to Coolidge"

The majority against the Governor in Philadelphia was attributed largely to the withdrawal of the support of the organization led by Representative Vare. He announced last Saturday that he could not support the executive because of his suggestion that F. J. Henley be employed as counsel to the senate committee investigating the Internal Revenue Bureau. Mr. Strassburger, to whom Vare turned his support, declared the issue "was loyalty to President Coolidge."

The republicans elected 79 delegates to the national convention, seven at large and two from each congressional district; the democrats, an equal number of district delegates and eight at large, each however, with only a half vote.

Both parties nominated candidates for congress in the 36 districts of the state.

Havana, April 23.—Aaron Keritsky, a merchant of American citizenship, was taken into custody in Nueva Gerona, Isle of Pines, Saturday for displaying an American flag, according to reports today. Reports said he unrolled the flag in the street in order that American aviators flying over the Isle of Pines might see it.

At American Consulate General here it was said that Keritsky claimed he took the flag into the street to unroll it and see what condition it was in.

At the consulate it was not regarded as important.

It is against Cuban law to display a foreign flag without displaying a Cuban flag.

BOYS' CARELESS FUN LED TO R. L. WILBERT'S DEATH

Was Sent to Sterling to Replace Insulators They Broke.

Sterling.—A favorite pastime of a number of youngsters is to use the glass insulators on the poles of the Illinois Northern Utilities Company as a target in the throwing of stones.

Says Walter A. Thomas, the local line foreman, who declares that the linemen are being called upon often to repair the broken insulators.

Mr. Thomas' statement was provoked by the tragic death of R. L. Wilbert, of Dixon, who was struck and killed by a Northwestern passenger train Monday afternoon near the power house in this city. Mr. Wilbert and a crew of linemen had been sent from Dixon to Sterling to replace eight broken insulators on the company's electric line along the Northwestern right of way, and he was setting out on this mission when the accident occurred. If the boys had not broken the insulators, Mr. Wilbert would not have been called for service along the railroad and would have been alive today.

Attack on Bonus Law Speeded Up in Senate Today

Speakers Limited to 15 Minutes Each as Vote Draws Near.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, April 23.—Convening two hours earlier than usual, the senate pressed toward a vote today on the soldier bonus bill with each speaker limited to 15 minutes. The principal controversy centered on the amendment for inclusion in the bill of a cash option provision.

Republican leaders said they would vote to sustain a presidential veto if the bill carried the cash option proposal, but would vote to override a veto if the four-year plan should be disapproved by the executive.

Opposition to any bonus measure made itself evident in the debate yesterday for the first time. Senator Borah, republican, Idaho, leading the attack with a warning that "it is time to take stock and turn the corner."

The bill has been on its legislative journey less than two months.

The pending bill makes provisions for all enlisted men and women and veto if the four-year plan should be disapproved by the executive.

Underwood Opens Attack.

Opening debate today Senator Underwood, renewing the attack against the bonus, advocated a pension law.

"You dishonor these protectors of our nation by offering them dirty dollars," Mr. Underwood said, "or by proposing to give them these insurance policies."

The men who fought on the first line of battle will have to carry this country in the next 20 years. You fixed this bonus so that it won't be paid for twenty years and propose that these men instead of you will have to pay for it.

"You're adding under this legislation an enormous tax to an already heavy burden."

"I want it distinctly understood that I shall vote against any bonus measure presented here. It will be a reflection on the service given by my son."

YANKS TO RAISE LEAGUE PENNANT THIS AFTERNOON

Bunting to Be Unfurled Later.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The 1923 American League pennant will be raised over Yankee Stadium today when the champions open their home season with the Boston Red Sox. The world's championship banner won from the Giants last fall will not be unfurled until a later date.

Rogers Hornsby, former National League home run champion, entered this season's race yesterday with two homers, made in a Cardinal-Pittsburgh slugfest match, won by the Pirates 10-7. Barnhart's homer in the same game was the only other circuit swat of the day. Hornsby now has three homers for the season.

Cubs Drop Another.

Jack Hendricks' Cincinnati team beat Chicago 3-2 in a remarkably hard fought battle. Carl Mays held the Cubs to eight hits and the Reds made seven off Kauffman and Blake.

Waite Hoyt held Washington to seven hits while the Yankees pounded the Senators pitchers for 14 hits and a 6 to 3 victory. Ruth was the only hitless player in the world's champion lineup. Detroit, aided by the wildness of Bayne and Lyons defeated St. Louis 8-4 and swept the series.

Cleveland and Chicago struggled along with one run until the eighth when a base hit rain set in. Sherrod Smith, Indian pitcher, ended it in the 10th with a single that gave his team a 7-6 win. The two teams made thirty-one hits.

Rain Blocks Two.

Rain postponed games between Philadelphia and Boston in the American League and New York and Boston and Brooklyn and Philadelphia in the National League.

Wheat of Brooklyn with an average of .53 leads the National League batters today and Boone of Boston leads the American League batsmen with .481. Hornsby, Pinelli, Barnhart and Smith of St. Louis follow Wheat. Stephenson, Heilmann, Collins and Rigney trail Boone. All are over .400.

The Washington Senators who hold the world's record for double plays are getting off to an early start to uphold their honors. They came through with two double killings against the Yankee yesterday.

Two Reds Injured.

Eddie Roush, star outfielder of the Reds, who wrenched his side in batting practice last week, will be out of the game until Sunday.

RECIPE FOR A HAPPY LIFE

Three ounces are necessary, first of patience; Then of repose and peace; of conscience. A pound entire is needful; Of pastimes of all sorts, too. Should be gathered as much as the hand can hold; Of pleasant memory and of hope three good drachms. There must be at least. But they should be moistened. With a liquor made from true pleasures that rejoice the heart; Then of love's magic drops a few— But use them sparingly, for they may bring a flame. Which naught but tears can drown; Grind the whole and mix there with of merriment an ounce. To even. Yet all this may not bring happiness. Except in your orisons you lift your voice. To Him who holds the gift of health. —Margaret of Navarre (1500).

Bertha Killmer Bride of Earl Williams

At the parsonage to the Immanuel Lutheran church yesterday at 2 o'clock, Rev. A. G. Suchting, pastor of the church officiated at a quiet wedding, at which time Miss Bertha Killmer, of Dixon and Earl Williams of Sterling were united in marriage. The bride was becomingly attired in steel grey satin, wearing a hat in the same shade. Mrs. Anna K. Killmer mother of the bride and Mrs. Suchting, were the only witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left for a honeymoon trip in their car, their destination not specified to friends. On their return they will make their home in Sterling, where the bridegroom has a good trade as an electrician. The bride has been a most popular girl in this city, whose many friends wish her every happiness.

WHAT THIS SCRIBE THINKS ABOUT IT

(From the Line-o-Type, Chicago Tribune.)

If we were a nurse at Cook County hospital and wanted to keep our job we would scurry around and put on a big flounced skirt and hoops and a bustle and lace pantalettes and leg of mutton sleeves and a waist that came way up in the neck with a big starched, flounced collar that went up higher than the ears. Then we would dress our horse and buggy with rats and switches and langes and hair curls and everything, and go around to Miss Wheeler, the Nemesis of the Bobs, and say, "Gramercy, Mistress Wheeler, and how liketh thou me in this array? Or dost prefer me in still more olden garb?"

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY SISTER MARY.
A Daily Menu for the Stout and Thin.

EAT AND—LOSE WEIGHT.

One-half grapefruit, 1 poached egg on 1 cup spinach, 1 large fig stuffed with 5 almonds blanched and shredded, 2 lamb chops, 4 tablespoons string beans, 1 cup shredded cabbage, 2 thin slices crisp whole wheat toast, 1 thin slice graham bread, 1 gluten roll, 1 pint skimmed milk.
Total calories, 1185. Protein, 243; fat, 370; carbohydrate, 572. Iron, .0244 gram.

Would you believe that two innocent tablespoons of lemon ice would add 158 calories of carbohydrate to your menu? They will, for I planned a treat for you and then had to retract after figuring.

Stew dry figs until tender in water to cover. Do not sweeten. Drain and fill with chopped nuts and serve with a little of the liquor in which they were cooked.

The spinach is cooked in its own juice, finely chopped and seasoned with salt and pepper. Form into a neat-like shape and drop a poached egg in the hollow.

The cabbage is seasoned with salt and pepper and lemon juice. A few celery seeds scattered through the dish make a change.

The beans should be served for the reducing diet before seasoning with butter for the rest of the family.

GAIN WEIGHT.

One-half grapefruit with 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 large mashed potato, 2 slices broiled bacon diced in ½ cup white sauce on toast, 1 poached egg on 1 cup spinach with 1 tablespoon melted butter, 2 large stuffed figs with 2 tablespoons whipped cream, 1 cup cream of corn soup with 1 tablespoon whipped cream, ½ cup well buttered popcorn, 2 tablespoons diced potatoes in 4 tablespoons cream sauce, 2 lamb chops, 1 medium sized sweet potato (baked), 4 tablespoons string beans in 4 tablespoons cream, ½ cup shredded cabbage with 2 tablespoons chopped nuts and 2 tablespoons oil mayonnaise, 2 bran muffins, 1 cinnamon roll, 2 dinner rolls, 4 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons lemon ice folded into 2 tablespoons whipped cream with 2 tablespoons hot thick maple syrup poured over the whole, 1 pint whole milk.
Total calories, 4724. Protein, 4416; fat, 2285; carbohydrate, 2023. Iron, .0284 gram.

Remember that much depends on your height and occupation when figuring the required number of calories. If you are active in outdoor sports (including housecleaning), you will need all of these fat calories even if you are short in stature. But if you are leading an inactive life with just enough outdoor exercise to keep you fit my suggestion is to decrease the whipped cream.

These figs are stuffed with English walnuts and raisins chopped and moistened with some of the fig juice. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—For Silver.

Always keep soft cloth on hand for rubbing up your silver. White outing flannel is excellent because it is very soft and can be washed out easily in warm, soapy water.

Removing Glue.
Household vinegar will remove old glue from furniture.

Use Ammonia.
Often the radiator leaks and the water beneath gets a filmy gray spot. This may easily be removed with ammonia.

Cleans Leather.
A solution of white soap, to which water and oil have been added, makes a good cleaner for leather.

For Cleaning.
Gold and silver lace embroidery may be cleaned by brushing with gasoline or alcohol.

Remove Stains.
To remove stains of chocolate or cocoa, moisten with cold water then cover with borax and let stand for a few minutes before you rinse with boiling water.

Emergency Kits.
Emergency kits fitted out with bandage, gauze, scissors, tweezers and such first-aid equipment should be found in every medicine cabinet.

Silver Inlay.
Glass with silver inlay must be rubbed after washing with a chamolai skin dipped in whiting.

Pinch of Salt.
When stewing dried or evaporated fruits, remember that a pinch of salt should be added to bring back the flavor.

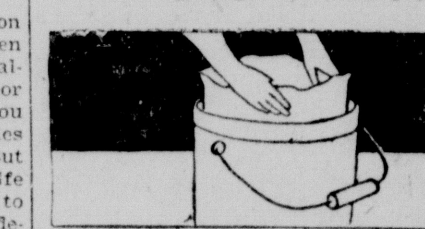

Proper Clothes.
When cleaning your house always wear clothes that are comfortable and that admit of stooping, reaching and stretching. You will be much less tired after a hard day's work than if you are not perfectly easy.

Frying in Fat.
Unless the fat, used for frying, is hot enough to form a crust on the food cooked in it, it will soak into the food.

Beef Fat.
Beef fat, clarified, is a good substitute for butter in shortening biscuits and gingerbread.

Pears.
Pears are delicious baked on stewed like apples.

Use Paper.
Line the garbage can with paper and make the cleaning less distasteful.

Cook Uncovered.
Cook onions and vegetables uncovered and their odor will be less noticeable.

Iron Stand.
A clean brick makes an excellent iron stand that will retain heat for a long time.

PERIOD FURNITURE Empire

The early 18th century, during Napoleon's regime, saw a complete reaction to the former embellished style of the Louis. It is a revival of Greek, Roman and Egyptian motifs. Plain surfaces prevail and the decoration consists mostly of brass mounts of antique emblems. Mahogany is the chief wood, and considerable veneering is done. Column and scroll supports in a heavy somber style are characteristics. The more ordinary furniture in this period is stiff and ungainly.

Illinois Miners to Protest Wage Scale

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Auburn, Ill., April 23.—Five hundred delegates of sub-district four, United Mine Workers of America, gathered here today to voice their objection to the three year wage contract signed by coal operators and officials of the mine workers.

Because of the approaching state convention at Peoria May 13, the convention here today commands state-wide interest in that 11,000 miners are represented in the convention. The meeting will be called to order by Freeman Thompson, president of the sub-district. President Thompson and John Watt, secretary, who are waging a campaign to demand the reinstatement of Alexander Howat as president of the Kansas Miners, will be the principal speakers.

The convention will vote to send representatives to the Farmer-Labor party convention in St. Paul June 17. President Thompson said.

Backache is a Warning!

Dixon Folks Are Learning How to Heed It.

Are you miserable with an aching back? Do you get up lame and stiff; drag through the day feeling tired, weak and depressed? Then you should help your kidneys. Backache is often the first sign of failing kidneys. Urinary troubles quickly follow. Neglected, there's danger of gravel, dropsy or fatal Bright's disease. Don't wait for serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys, before it is too late. This Dixon resident tells an experience: "Mrs. M. Y. Cox, 614 Van Buren Ave. says: 'Some time ago my back began to bother me. I had a pain in the small of it which bothered me when I stooped or tried to straighten. I also had headaches and frequent dizzy spells. I used one box of Doan's Pills and they entirely removed the trouble.'"

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Cox had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Adv.

GOING TO HAVE A GARDEN?
Every normal person hears the call of nature at this time of year. Some answer by taking strolls in the woods, others by long auto rides in the open country.

But the greatest pleasure in springtime is planting home garden, flowers and grass. Nature plainly intended every man and woman to till the soil and grow a part of their food supply. Working with our hands in the soil is the natural life. There's a thrill unlike any other joy, in watching the gradual growth of plant life from the seed in soil prepared by your own hands.

First the delicate green sprout, on through the various stages to the harvest of vegetables, flowers or fruit. The home garden is life on a small scale—a never-ending struggle for survival. The constant battle with weeds and insects is as fascinating a game as the struggle for success and against failure in the battle to "make a good living."

Home gardening is a sport. No baseball fan gets more genuine pleasure from a game than the dyed-in-the-wool home gardener watching his vegetable patch or flowers sprout and mature.

That's where health is—close to the soil. A patch of land only six feet square is the best medicine in the world for pale cheeks, fagged nerves, flabby muscles and sickly appetite.

Plant a garden—if nothing more than a bed of lettuce, which is about the easiest thing to grow in creation.

The garden brings health by fresh air, exposure to sunshine, moderate exercise, the relaxation of a hobby, and by a mysterious alchemy caused by contact with the soil.

If you have children, help them start a garden. It is, in addition to its health benefits, excellent training to make them think straight. The man who tills the soil absorbs knowledge of the laws of nature—and these laws regulate all human activities.

Nothing is more powerful than a garden to impress children with the fact that nature makes man pay the full price for every joy, every folly, every neglect, and that while effort occasionally is fruitless it brings sure returns by the law of averages. It is like life—all seeds do not sprout in the garden, nor all efforts in the battle for success.

The country is far away from the average city child. Bring the country to him by having a home garden this year.

IF WE HAD NO ICE.

The ice man is beginning to smack his lips. His busy season is starting. And if people realized the magnitude of the ice industry, there'd be less joking about it.

This year the American people will use 58 million tons of ice, according to Leslie C. Smith. He's secretary of the icemen's national association. A little arithmetic discloses that about 800 pounds of ice will be used in 1924 for every man, woman and child. This includes refrigerators in homes, butcher shops, grocery stores, hotels, restaurants, refrigerator cars, etc.

Every day of the year, Americans pay about a million dollars for ice.

Did you ever stop to think what we'd do if we didn't have ice? Cities would be impossible without refrigeration to preserve vegetables and fruits and meats during the long railroad trip to market, not to mention the necessity of ice in stores, cold storage plants, homes and eating places.

Take away the supply of ice, and the whole system of civilization would be shaken and in danger of collapse.

A remarkable invention is artificial ice, which magically creates wintertime cold during hot months of summer.

For many centuries scientists experimented trying to produce low temperatures artificially. As far back as 1775, Dr. William Cullen succeeded in manufacturing ice in his laboratory. But ice making and refrigeration did not begin to come into general use until shortly before the Civil War.

The thousands who contributed to the gradual development of the art of refrigeration are unknown to fame, apparently because their services were useful. Had they been military destroyers, monuments everywhere.

Tellier, whose discoveries made cold storage possible, died in poverty.

WHAT RUSSIA MUST DO.

Russia has been "recognized" by Great Britain, but how much this recognition amounts to may be judged by the memorandum which a number of British bankers have sent to Prime Minister MacDonald.

What Russia wants from the rest of the world is not so much the formal acceptance of her present government as official, as it is credit and trade. And the British bankers, who control the credit of the country, and who finance its trade, can pretty effectually keep both from Russia, insofar as Great Britain is concerned, unless Russia will meet their conditions.

Those conditions differ in no wise from the practical ones proposed by Secretary Hughes. Public and private debts must be recognized; the private property of foreigners must be restored; courts must be independent of government interference; private contracts must be recognized as legal and binding; private property be protected from confiscation; freedom of trade must be permitted; and Russia must realize that she comes into the loan market on no more favorable terms than any other nation.

These are all conditions that govern the flow of private capital, which demands first of all security, and in the second place a fair return for its use. That return is governed by the laws of competition. There is nothing prejudicial to Russia in these stipulations. If Russia wants to do business with other countries, she must play the game according to the accepted international rules. She can not make her own rules and expect other people to adopt them.

SMUGGLING DRUGS.

Detectives broke into boxes of "glow lamps" arriving recently in New York from abroad. Inside they found 42,000 ounces of morphine. Other detected drug shipments, masked as fish and candy, came from Mexico and Cuba. Smuggling in the dark of night is the favorite entry.

The drug traffic has become a world menace. To stamp it out, it must be attacked at the source of production—international action to curb the making of opium, morphine, heroin, etc. What isn't made can't be sold. We need international drug police. Present agreements along this line are feeble.

VOLUNTARY.

Who will pay the cost of broadcasting radio concerts? A Kansas City broadcasting station asked its listeners to buy "seats" in the "invisible theater." Within 10 days more than $10,000 was received, all voluntary. The station hopes to raise $100,000 and put it on interest to help pay expenses.

The public is almost phenomenally fair and square.

Churches that broadcast their services make a mistake in not requesting listeners to help the invisible collection plate.

TOM SIMS SAYS

After all is said and done the trouble in Washington right now is more is being said than done.

Electricity travels 11,600,000 miles a minute, arriving just 59 seconds behind bad news.

Women want the last word in talking and in clothes.

The crazy stunts pulled in circus rings are not as funny as some of the stunts pulled in political rings.

In the annual spring drive of motorists against trains no train casualties have been reported so far.

It never has occurred to Germany that she could settle the reparation problems by paying.

Once they married in haste and repented at leisure; now they marry in spring and repent in summer.

A good rain helps to liquidate the farmer's debts.

Concrete facts and concrete heads don't always mix.

Up to now the war veterans awaiting a bonus from Congress have found every hour zero hour.

"Why, your majesty," spoke up Mister Muggs.

"Where are we going now?" asked Nancy.
"The next station in Once-Upon-a-Time Land," said Mister Muggs. "It's where the Brave Little Tailor lives. He was the one who killed seven flies with one swat. He was so proud of himself he went out into the world to seek his fortune. Everywhere he went he boasted that he had killed seven at one blow, and every one thought he meant seven people. The king gave him three tasks to do, and when he succeeded in accomplishing them, the king gave him his daughter for a wife, and half of his kingdom."
Away they went over seven prairies and through seven gorges, and came at last to the Kingdom of the Brave Little Tailor.
Two castles stood on top of two hills, and running up and down the kingdom, dividing it straight into two equal parts, was a stone wall—as high and thick as the Great Wall of China.
"What's that for?" asked Mister Muggs of a beggar standing beside the road.
"That's a spite wall," answered the beggar. "When the king found out that the man who had married his daughter was only a tailor instead of a mighty warrior, he got so mad that he had his army build the wall between the two halves of his kingdom. The tailor and his wife live in one castle and the king lives in the other."
"You don't say so?" cried Mister Muggs. "A pretty kettle of fish, I call it."
"Not fish, sir! Fish!" said the beggar. "That's really what made the king so mad. He found out that after all his boasting, his son-in-law had killed seven flies at one blow instead of seven people, as he supposed. Every time he hears something more about the way the tailor outwitted him, he has his army put another row of stones on top of the wall. It will soon be up to the sky."
"Tut, tut!" exclaimed Mister Muggs. "Nancy and Nick, we'll go and see this king and see if we can't fix things up. I always liked the Brave Little Tailor when I read about him. He was a merry fellow, and that is more than can be said for some people I know."
The little car went right up to the front door of the king's castle and at that minute the king stepped out to give an order to his army. "I've just heard something more about that tailor son-in-law of mine," he cried. "But another row of stones on top of the wall, soldiers!"
"Why, your majesty," spoke up Mr. Muggs, "if it was not for the Brave Little Tailor you wouldn't be living now. He killed the two giants who would have killed you and your people, and he caught the unicorn which would have wounded you when you were hunting, and he trapped the wild bear."
"But he did it all by trickery," cried the king. "That isn't bravery."
"Wits are better than muscle," said Mister Muggs. "and he has enough wit for 10 people."
"That's so," laughed the king, suddenly in a good humor. "Men, tear the whole wall down and go over to the other castle and invite my daughter and her tailor husband in to have lunch with me. As for you three, you'd better stay, too, and we'll make a party of it."

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

ABOUT INVESTMENTS

A lot of people are now asking the question, How can I invest my money to the best advantage, where it will be safe and increase in value?

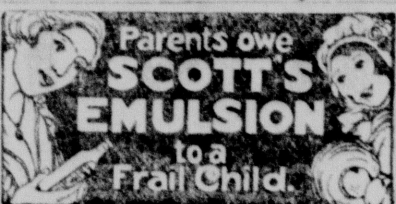

I think the best answer to this is to advise buy farm land, good farms, located near a good market.

When you realize that your dollar now only has a purchasing power of six and farm land is low and will positively come back, where can the people of this country invest their sixty-five cent dollar where it will assume its real 100% value as quickly as in farms?

When the public begins to realize that they can buy a good farm at about 65% of its real value, which you can do today and buy it with money that only has a purchasing power in any other commodity of sixty-five cents on the dollar there will be a wild scramble for farms and this time is fast coming, and when it does come and the people wake up, then land values will go up like the price of leases do in the oil lands when some one brings in a gusher.

This city and all other cities are full of men who have made their fortunes on the rise in land values and buying farms now is not a risky speculation but a sound investment with a sure profit and the man who buys will wake up some day with two dollars for every one he invested in farm lands.

THE PERIL OF NARCOTICS BY CAPTAIN RICHMOND P. HOBSON II.—Extent of the Peril

In America alone, narcotic addicts number in the millions.

They burden the dockets of the criminal courts, federal, state and municipal.

The psychology of addiction shows the addict to be inherently and potentially a criminal and a peddler of narcotics. Medical men now consider addiction, regarding possibility of cure, in a class with leprosy and cancer.

Addicts come to consider their drug supply as paramount—a matter of life and death. The physical tolerance and craving, growing with addiction, demand an ever-increasing quantity.

The average addict takes 10 grains of morphine daily, 80 times a normal dose, and is paying one dollar a grain and up.

It is estimated that more than nine-tenths of all murders, hold-ups, and daring robberies are now committed by addicts. It is especially the addict of heroin who is capable of cruel and daring crimes.

Sheriff William Traeger of Los Angeles county, Calif., declares that 90 per cent of the crime committed in that county is traceable to users of narcotics. The warden of the California State Penitentiary at San Quentin says 90 per cent of the inmates are addicts.

HOWLING HIRAM DUE FOR A BIG DEFEAT AT HOME

Telegraph Correspondent in Los Angeles Tells of Situation There.

BULLETIN.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Newark, N. J., April 23.—President Coolidge yesterday overwhelmed Senator Hiram Johnson, California, in the New Jersey preferential primary. With 478 districts still unreported the president had a lead of nearly 80,000 votes which was being increased by belated returns.

President Coolidge captured the entire slate of 31 republican national convention delegates. The Coolidge delegates-at-large were leading their Johnson opponents by approximately 70,000 votes while in the congressional districts, the Coolidge candidates were well ahead in every contest.

Returns from 2,035 election districts out of 2,514 in the state gave for presidential preference: Coolidge, 90,274; Johnson, 10,487.

By H. H. C.

Los Angeles—T-bones, top sirloins and porterhouses are not so popular out here just at the present time as they were awhile back.

The foot and mouth disease, which has broken out in some portions of California, is a real and terrible menace, and every effort is being made to combat it. It is not quite so bad as it was a week or so ago, but unless this cattle plague is checked there is danger that a general embargo will be placed against California products.

Already eight western states have laid down embargoes against California day-old chicks, fruits and vegetables. Oregon will allow fruit to enter on condition that it be fumigated, but the fumigation spoils the fruit. In Nevada fruit and vegetables are accepted if the shipper obtains a permit from the Nevada State Department of Agriculture, and the same department in this state has postponed by proclamation the fishing season in all counties under quarantine.

The cattle plague of ten years ago in the middle west took a year and a half to control and cost $90,000,000. But with the right kind of public co-operation, California is much better prepared to cope with the situation than was Illinois ten years ago. The governor of the state now has at his command some two million dollars to fight this disease, and it is to be hoped that it will be stamped out ere long.

It is bad enough, but likely not so terrible as some of the eastern papers will try to make out. Just after the San Francisco earthquake, we had a pretty good jolt here the next day, and eastern correspondents were saying that buildings were "rocking like boats" in L. A. Also that a man at Riverside, Calif., not far from San Francisco—it is almost 400 miles between the two places—had his orange grove destroyed by the quake, but that he did not feel so badly about it as it was found that the earth had opened up and disclosed a very fine vein of gold ore. About as near as they ever get to reporting a thing just as it is. Still, when you have a snow storm back there the papers here tell of a terrible blizzard, and when you have a heavy frost they report zero weather and people freezing to death—so there you are! Of course, hundreds of people are killed every year out here by earthquakes and thousands of dollars worth of property destroyed—but some of us are still staying.

HOWLING HOLY HIRAM

Tell the folks there is no truth in the report that our windy Senator was having his portrait painted showing himself seated on an ivory throne with a bunch of forked lightning in his fist. Instead of that there will be a comedy sketch with a group picture of himself as "The Lost Cause." He will still have a voice. Nothing can impair the service of that tireless organ. If it cannot be raised to cheer on advancing hosts it can sound impressive warnings of the coming of the bowwows. So far as Hy is concerned he is thought to be the only performer who can blow a horn, beat a drum and finger a fiddle; he will direct himself, write his own score and pass his own hat. He is being paid to sit in Washington as a representative of California interests—though weak and feeble.

If everybody turns in and gives support to the administration, Hiram will still carry on—no matter how weak and feeble. The unpleasant feature about it is that Hiram tries to be nasty about it. What was done to him by Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska will not be a marker to him voters out here will do next month. He's going to see a lot of green and purple larks flying around his head. A lot of wise cracks might be written about this, but what's the use? One does not need to call attention to the obvious! On almost every occasion when he might have been of service to his state and his people he has been numbered among the missing. He is known best as the "glorious absentee."

The rank and file of Americans heartily rebuke this buccaneering.

They are going to vote for Calvin Coolidge, and they are going to bowl over every obstacle that stands in the way!

ANOTHER JAP SCARE

Japan says she is a proud and sensitive nation. Nobody denies it, but Hanihara has learned there are others.

When the industrious Japanese leave their own island empire they are more than likely to seek a foothold under the Stars and Stripes than any other banner. Although Manchuria is the first natural outlet for the race there are more Japs in American territory than in Manchuria and China combined. Upward of 600,000 Japanese have left the home nest for other lands and more than 250,000 of them are under the U. S. banner—either in the United States, the Hawaiian Islands or the Philippines. Nearly fifty per cent of the Japanese absentees are on American soil. We get all kinds, but the time has come when we are not going to be made the dumping ground for the scum of Europe as it is going to be "skimmed" before it reaches here. We intend America for Americans, and unless our unbidden guests indicate an ability to qualify for citizenship—with all that it means—we may feel warranted to raise a forbidding hand.

We hardly think there will be any "grave consequences" following the legislation just passed. We don't want 'em to land out here, and take possession of California, or any other state, else if we do permit it we'll all be working for a Jap at some future date. It was not found necessary to write them any notes to find out if they would be peeved, but they have been told, right off the bat, what is what.

When the militiamen went down along the Rio Grande to pick poppies and let the Mexicans take a shot at 'em it then looked as if we were going to get into "serious international complications." If we objected to it, or that the cholos would retaliate if we did return the fire by carrying out their threat to come up and take California, Texas and New Mexico away from us; so its possibly just as well we didn't do anything about it—then. But times have changed. What a bunch of Texas Rangers could have done to them, had they been permitted to be turned loose, would be a crime. We should like to see a lot of us go and try to shoot across the line in Canada and nothing didding! And still we wonder at crime!

What Balloon Tires Add to Chandler Performance

If you want to experience the supreme luxury of motoring—drive a balloon-tired Chandler!

The Pikes Peak Motor gives you the flawless power mastery you naturally expect from the national performance champion.

Thanks to the Traffic Transmission you cannot clash gears—cannot fail to make a split-second, silent, positive change under any and all conditions.

And augmented by Chandler's scientific spring suspension, the balloon tires provide an indescribably luxurious feeling of comfort and relaxation over roads of every sort.

In addition to absorbing the shock of ruts, bumps, and holes, the resilient yielding cushions of low-pressure air add to Chandler's sure-footed safety.

With greater tire-to-road contact area, the car steers easier—stops quicker. There is no skidding—even on wet, greasy asphalt; no slewing in sand, gravel or rutted clay.

Chandler is able to offer super-size balloon cords as optional equipment at a very moderate extra cost because Chandler standard construction allows their application without the slightest impairment of proper clearances.

HIS BROTHER'S WIFE

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Dolly, a governess, marries Nigel Bretherton for his money. The marriage proves an unhappy one. When war is declared, Nigel is glad to enlist. He leaves Dolly under the care of Mary Furnival. Mary comes to live in Dolly's flat.

David goes to call on a friend named Fisher who shows David a picture of Nigel's wife. David sees that it is not a picture of the girl he takes for Nigel's widow. Fisher tells David that he does not like Dolly.

Now go on with the story. "To the right thing with all means, but don't let her think that you're going to make a tremendous fuss. She's perfectly capable of looking after herself; she'll marry again, as I said before. Make her a small allowance—say a couple of hundred a year."

"I'll think it over." Fisher's sister joined them again, and they talked on ordinary topics till a striking clock warned them that it was past midnight. Dora rose.

"We've all lost our beauty sleep," she said, laughing and glancing at David. "I'm going to bed. David, you're not going to run away from us first thing tomorrow?"

"I am afraid I must. I ought to have gone to the Red Grange tonight, there is so much to see to; but I hope we shall see a great deal of each other in the future. You must come down and stay with me, Monty, and bring Dora."

"I should love to come!" Dora was delighted at the idea; she had once seen Red Grange and never forgotten it. Already she was wondering if perhaps some day she might not make it her permanent home. David Bretherton was rich, and a somebody, and she had always liked him.

CHAPTER XI
The Puzzle

UP in his bedroom, he turned on all the lights and propped the little photograph of Nigel and his wife against the dressing-table glass. He stood looking down at it for a moment, then he took the flat gold locket which Mary Furnival had given him from his pocket, and opened it.

With a sort of deliberate curiosity he compared the pictured faces of the two women—the one in the locket with his steady, almost sad eyes, and the frivolous prettiness of the girl who had been his brother's wife.

It was not the same woman! He laid the locket down beside the unmounted photograph, and again opened the letter Nigel had written the night before his death.

Perhaps now he would be able better to understand its imploring incoherence; perhaps now in the light of this new discovery, many things would be made clear.

"Dear David," (Nigel's sprawling writing struck his heart with a little pang of remembrance; nobody but Nigel had ever called him "Dave"). "I have been meaning to write to you ever since I came out to this hell, for hell it is, no matter what the papers say."

"I don't want to grumble—I came of my own free will—but this past day or two I've had the feeling that I shall never see Jack home. So many of the chaps have gone under and you never know whose turn it will be next."

"I should have liked to have seen you again, old fellow. I hope you weren't very wild over my last letter? I ought to have told you before about my marriage, but it's all been such a mistake."

"Not that I'm blaming Dolly. It's casual that, honestly, little Marquise, I did not know what to say to her. Both seemed to have forgotten that Sally had just buried her husband. Both seemed to have forgotten everything except that they had come back to do together some immensely important thing which they could not do by themselves."

I did manage, however, to spring out of the car and hold out both my hands to my old friend.

"I'm so sorry for you, dear. You've been having a very hard time, haven't you? You'll let me know, won't you, if I can do anything for you?"

"Sure she will," interrupted Jack. "Impatient to get into the office. "She'll come and have dinner with us very soon."

Then he turned to her and said: "You haven't heard anything from the Morton Company, have you, about their advertising contract? It should have been sent them the day I left."

She shook her head, and having her hand to me, went into the building, Jack forgetting me completely, following.

could not help noticing, little Marquise, that Jack had said nothing to Sally about her husband, and the fact that he had not didn't seem to worry her in the least. I became suddenly aware that Sally Atherton was a very extraordinary woman.

Lumber up! Don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" from any drug store, and after using it just once, you'll forget that you ever had backache, lumbago or sciatica, because your back will never hurt or cause any more misery. It never disappoints and has been recommended for 60 years.

had stopped and jokingly offered her a penny for her thoughts.

That had been one of the days when a patch of blue sky was visible above the ugly chimney-pots, and Mary had pointed to it, and answered that she was wondering what it must be like to live in the country, where there was no smoke, and where the sun always shone.

The answer had amused and irritated him, even though he told her that there was no place on earth where the sun always shone. She was different from the duffy, giggling girls of his acquaintance, and one day he hesitatingly asked her to come out and have some tea with him.

And so the curious friendship had started.

No man had ever paid Mary attention before, and it seemed to her ignorance that this was Remembrance with a capital letter, and the first step to the "Happy-ever-after" Land, of which she had hitherto only dreamed.

For four years she had been more than happy and content with his friendship, and then, without a word of warning, her dream castles came clattering to the ground.

Nigel went on a country visit. He had often been away before, and she had not minded. She had looked forward to his occasional letters, and the joy of his return. But this time, beyond a couple of scribbled postcards, he did not write at all.

The visit, which had been for a week, dragged into two, and when he came back one glance at his face told her the reason for the delay.

He had met the inevitable "other woman."

Little by little, as if he were not quite sure how she would take it, he had told her about Dolly—how pretty she was, how altogether charming.

"Her hair is like copper beech-leaves in the sun," he said eloquently. "I want to marry her more than anything in the world."

For an agonized moment Mary had not been able to answer. For a moment she had closed her eyes, and wondered with a sick feeling of utter despair how she could ever hide from him the truth—the humiliating truth—that she had given him something more than friendship, expecting something more in return.

CHAPTER XIII
Dolly's Letter

SHE had stood by him loyally in spite of it all. She had listened to the solemn words that had made him the husband, till death should part them, of a woman who cared nothing for him. She had been that woman's true friend through all the petty blockings and disillusionments that had followed.

No matter how her heart ached for Nigel, and his bitter disappointment, she never allowed one word or sign of it to escape her. She might have been Dolly's friend for all those four years, instead of his.

And now he was dead, and Dolly had married somebody else, and forgotten him.

It seemed so utterly incredible. Even now she would sometimes sit with eyes tight shut, and tell herself that when she opened them she would find life all going on as usual.

Dolly, looting about the flat, discontented, silent; both of them—or was it only she herself?—listening for the postman's knock with bated breath.

There was no longer anything to dread, nothing even to hope for. Life seemed to flow past her, leaving her standing still in the place where Nigel had fallen.

She woke from a dream of him the morning following David Bretherton's visit, to find a letter from Dolly awaiting her.

It had been written on board ship, and posted at sea.

"I never knew what happiness really was till now." So wrote Dolly with a quill pen and many underlinings. "Robert is so good to me. I believe he really worships the ground I walk on. No different from Nigel!"

"Mary, I was a fool not to have realized to begin with how utterly unloved we were. He never troubled to understand me."
